Odds of November: Dia De Los Muertos

KFJC observed Dia de Los Muertos by honoring our DJs who have departed this realm and traveled beyond. KFJC has been deeply enriched by these souls who passed through here, and we are grateful to have them in our family. Their work touches our hearts every day. Our tribute includes some long-running and beloved voices, and a few who had barely got their wings. We will do our best to pop DJs into familiar time slots to not upset their spirits. We hope it conjures up some positive forces for all of us. Respecting the past; Forwarding into the future. If you missed any of these broadcasts, catch them in the KFJC archives for two weeks:

2022 KFJC Hooded Long Sleeve T-Shirt. Design by J. Visher

"The Night Owl" hooded long-sleeve t-shirt depicts a barn owl perched in a barren tree, basking in the glow of a crescent moon and is the last in our trinity of nocturnal flying creature donation gifts. Along with 2018's moth hoodie and 2019's bat t-shirt featuring a refractive silver silkscreen ink, this time with hand drawn lettering winding down the sleeves is one of our humble, and apt, declarations: "YOUR SOURCE" on the right, and "FOR SOUND" on the left. The barn owl is native to the hills of Los Altos and in fact, they are such successful predators that they inhabit the vast majority of the world (much like our listenership) and exhibit a highly recognizable and unnerving vocalization; a terrifying screech that can chill the blood (similar to our air-sound). Printed on a unisex, 4.2 oz. Bella + Canvas 100% Airlume combed & ringspun cotton (soft, like owl feathers) hooded jersey in black.

Also a Bay Area native, J. Visher is a multi-discipline, truly vnderground, visual artist who spent the first half of his life being bombarded directly by our 108 watt transmitter, corrupting fundamentally his aural leanings, and who reports that he is humbled and honored for the opportunity to complete this ritual in 3's for KFJC in solidarity with, and support for, one of the last bastions of volunteer driven, community supported, 24-hour radio, for all sentient beings... but especially, the creatures of the night.

Expressive, cool, dark, inspiring and more. Show your appreciation for KFJC and owls by sporting this black hooded long sleeve t-shirt wherever you may be.

Offered in sizes from Small to XXL but check online for availability as you select as your size may go fast.

KFJC Artist Shirt for 2022. Design by John Swick

Our popular series of T-Shirts featuring designs from some of today's top underground artists continues. This year's artist is John Swick. John Swick was an impressionable 7th grader from Sunnyvale, California when his older brothers introduced him to KFJC. This quickly cultivated a life-long love for strange and exotic sounds. He was soon playing drums in garage bands while developing his passion for art, drawing various flyers, stickers, and demo cassette covers. After earning a Bachelor of Science from San Jose State University, he has been working as a Graphic Designer in the Silicon Valley (while continuing to play in bands) for over 24 years.

The KFJC Artist Series classic fit T-Shirt in gray is available in sizes ranging from XS to XXL as our thanks for your generous donation of $45 or more.

2022 KFJC Girlie Shirt. Design by Alivia Horsley

We're rolling out another one of our super popular girlie shirts..! The title of this shirt is "Let's Hear it Louder!" Alivia Horsley is an illustrator and designer who loves drawing animals and bringing inanimate objects to life. She usually depicts bunnies doing all sorts of stuff – from dancing to enjoying a meal with friends.
